

Search Results / RIS1

Commercial RIS 1

Programming Language: C++, C Sharp

Client: WebBased

Interoperability: DICOM, GDT, HL7

Language: English, German

Supports Enterprise Function:

Add or change or delete billing codes and material

Assign free and available modalities

Cancellation of transferred billing data and subsequent processing

Contextual information such as the examination and findings history

Creation of customized reports

Electronic recording of results and examinations

Influencing the order status by authorized users

Manual or automated transfer of service codes to the billing system

Patient registration

Quality assurance through complete patient history

Save image or sound or text data in the patient file

Search for specific category or restrictions while ordering

Supplement billing relevant data to order

Track all order

Track material and film consumption

Transfer of the order data

Software Product

Operating System: Linux, Macintosh, Microsoft Windows, Unix

License: Proprietary Commercial Use

Offers Feature:

Access to examination comments

Add or change or delete billing codes and material

Assign free and available modalities

Cancellation of transferred billing data and subsequent processing

Contextual information such as the examination and findings history

Coordination of RIS and PACS

Creation of customized reports

Electronic recording of results and examinations

Extensive statistics through integrated reporting and charting

Full range of functions at decentralized workstations

Influencing the order status by authorized users

Manual or automated transfer of service codes to the billing system

Patient registration

Quality assurance through complete patient history

Save image or sound or text data in the patient file

Search for specific category or restrictions while ordering

Supplement billing relevant data to order

Track all order

Track material and film consumption